

SUNDAY
hindustantimes.com
hindustantimes

New Delhi / PUNJAB METRO ₹ 4.00 Vol. IX No.50

DECEMBER 05, 2010

International magazine organises Divine Journey

HT Live Correspondent

ludhivedesk@hindustantimes.com

LUDHIANA: It was a beautiful mix of music, mantra and spiritual talk at the 'Divine Journey' programme in Club Nirvana on Friday. It was organised by 'Tathaastu: So Be It', an international spiritual and holistic lifestyle magazine.

Bhajan maestro Anup Jalota mesmerised the audience with his bhajans. He peppered his bhajan recitals with anecdotes and humorous stories.

Actor Annu Kapoor anchored the programme. His teasers and intellectual nitpicking were interesting as well as thought provoking.

Spiritual healer Swami Chamunda discussed the significance of mantras. The audience participation was quite perceptible. On being asked whether mantras could be recited in translated versions, Swami Chamunda said they were "word

■ Singer Anup Jalota performing during a function organised by "Tathaastu" at Nirvana Club in Ludhiana on Friday.

HT PHOTO

power" and should be recited in their original version only.

Tathaastu's editor-in-chief Georgy Bhaala said the magazine celebrated a healthy and spiritual way of embracing life.

Punjab transport minister Master Mohan Lal and chief parliamentary secretary Harish Rai Dhanda were among the guests.

City-based personalities Sushil Raju Thapar, Yash Pal Gupta and Arvind Kumar were given 'Tathaastu Be the Change Award' for their exemplary work in social and philanthropic spheres.